

I would like to see a greater diversity of radio programs. I believe we cannot achieve this with conglomerates such as Clear Channel. Already in my area I feel as if individual stations no longer have that small unique feel - they are just one big station playing the same programs over and over again. Please do not let this situation worsen.

Thanks